

'RSPCA Flood Rescue Award'

When devastating floods struck the small Cumbrian village of Cockermouth, Jane Folly, one of our local Animal Welfare Officers, was amongst the first on the scene.

Boat trained, both she and her colleagues worked alongside the emergency services, effecting a number of rescues and offering families and their animals help and assistance.

Over 200 sheep, 6 cattle, eight cats, a collapsed dog and a horse were rescued

In recognition of her contribution, Jane and the rest of her colleagues that make up the East Region Team, were awarded the Disaster Medal by the RSPCA.

Jane Folly (third from the left) collecting her award from the RSPCA

Jane Folly and colleague Chris Shaw in Cockermouth, Cumbria

Download Article

Challenges